

Australian Government guide to Coronavirus

The Government is providing information about COVID-19 initiatives in more than sixty (60) languages. This can be accessed via the following links:

- <https://www.health.gov.au/news/health-alerts/novel-coronavirus-2019-ncov-health-alert/translated-coronavirus-covid-19-resources>
- <https://www.homeaffairs.gov.au/covid-19/Pages/covid-19-english.aspx?lang=english>

The government has also announced temporary changes to visa arrangements to help farmers access the workforce they need to secure Australia's food and produce supply during COVID-19.

The changes allow those within the Pacific Labour Scheme, Seasonal Worker Program and working holiday makers to continue to work in agriculture and food processing until the coronavirus crisis has passed.

Regional Development Australia has compiled a guide in an attempt to round up information to a single useful source, however, due this rapidly changing issue it is suggested that the links contained within hold the most up to date information.
